LeBaron gathered at their invitation at Benon-fortuna farm Saturday evening, Nov. 2, at 9 o'clock to witness the marriage ceremony of their son, Ensign Walter Roy LeBaron of the U. S. navy, and Miss Pearl Madeline MacLeary of Boston. Ensign LeBaron arrived home on Friday morning on a few days' furlough from Bumpkin island. The parlors at the LeBaron home were decorated with evergreen, the Stars and Stripes and French and British flags. The canopy under which they stood was made of evergreen and two large American flags, while over them was the sailors' lover-knot in red, white and blue. The groom and his best man, Ensign Wendall P. Welton of Brooklyn, were in uniform, as was also the officiating clergyman, Rev. William L. Bobcott. The bride was gown in white satin and wore a veil, while the maid of honor, Miss Kathleen LeBaron, sister of the groom, wore rose taffeta and crepe de chine. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Edwin F. Palmer and following the ceremony Miss LeBaron sang, "Love Never Fails." Congratulations were extended by all present and refreshments were served by Miss LeBaron and Mr. Welton, who passed the bride's cake, which had been cut by the bride, cake and ice cream being served by Miss Florence Batcher and Hugh Lyons, and punch was served by Miss Annie Dorothy Palmer. During the evening music was furnished by Miss Palmer, Stanley Buzzell and Mrs. Palmer. The bride was born in Granville and is the daughter of Norman MacLeary. She attended Goddard seminary and Burnett college. The groom was born in Barre and has made his home here for a number of years. He graduated from Goddard seminary and would have finished at the U. BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Pvt. Fred R. Perry of Stowe Arrives Overseas and Writes Back.

The following letter from Pvt. Fred R. Perry of Stowe to the family of George A. Carey, is reprinted with the thought that friends in the locality covered by The Times may be interested to hear of his safe arrival in France and what he says of the journey and country. It was written Oct. 13, 1918.

"Will drop you a few lines in answer to your welcome letter I received three days ago. I got them all O. K. They were mailed Sept. 13.

"Am well and hope this letter will find you all the same. Wish I was there to help eat some of those apples. I sure would dig in. Yes, I got over here all right except one accident. I lost my hat about mid-ocean. Guess it is there yet. "People here have done some harvesting, mostly grapes. The place where you always wanted to go is sure some place. The books you read about such places tell the truth. Ice Sweet is in the same place as myself. We are near Bordeaux.

"About those saddles. If I get back all together, I want the tan one with the roll straps on, and the stirrups that are on the other one, for myself. You see I want to shift the stirrups. You take the saddle I want for myself and keep it for me, or buy the other one of Dad. I simply want the tan saddle with the roll straps on and exchange the stirrups. I know you will take good care of any kind of a harness, so make any kind of a trade with Dad you want to. I wish you would do me a favor by taking the saddle-bridle and keeping it in good shape for me. Keep together and use it only for saddle purposes. If you will do that, I will think it a great favor, for I think more of that bridge than I do of my wife (if I had one).

"Tell Leah I can't tell her about my school, but will when I get back."

MELANCHOLIA IS OVERCOME BY A BLOOD BUILDER

A Binghamton Woman Tells How Her Health Was Restored by Correcting an Anemic Condition.

Every woman's health is peculiarly dependent upon the condition of her blood. How many women suffer with headache, pain in the back, poor appetite, weak digestion, a constant feeling of weariness, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, pallor and nervousness? If you have any of these symptoms, do not despair of getting better, but begin now, to-day, to build up your blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. See how the nervous energy of the body is restored as the blood becomes pure and red and the entire system is strengthened to meet every demand upon it.

Miss S. J. White of No. 58 Court street, Binghamton, N. Y., suffered from anemia. She says:

"I was very tired all the time and was so weak that it was an effort to sit up straight. I became pale and my blood was so thin that I was easily chilled. My stomach was sour and I was bothered with gas."

"At times I was very discouraged and suffered from melancholia. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me, and I decided to try them. By the time I had finished the first box I had more life and energy."

"I have taken three boxes in all and am as strong as I ever have been and do my work with pleasure. As my blood has become richer I am not bothered with the chilly feeling. My stomach is no longer sour, the melancholia has left me, and my general health is good."

"I shall gladly tell my friends of the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a tonic."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are useful for all women, but they are particularly valuable to girls of school age who show symptoms of going into a decline, who become pale, nervous and languid. These pills aid in securing perfect development and health by strengthening the system and purifying and building up the blood. Thin blood during the growing years of a girl's life usually means a flat-chested and hollow-necked womanhood. There can be neither health nor beauty without red blood, which gives brightness to the eyes and color to cheeks and lips.

In spite of the increased cost of all drugs, the price of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills has not been changed. Your own druggist can supply you or you can order direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., enclosing fifty cents for one box or $2.50 for six boxes. Write to-day for a free copy of the booklet, "Building Up the Blood."—Adv.

Colored Church Buys Canner.

*Successful canning work has been done in a colored community in Virginia the past summer through the foresight of its minister. Impressed by the home demonstration agent's talks on the value of canning the surplus products of the garden, this up-to-date leader of a colored church decided to invest in a large hot-water canner and 4,000 cans for a start. His plan as it was carried out was not to do commercial work but to get the people of his church to save enough for themselves this winter. His daughter has had charge of it, and the members of the congregation have brought their fruit and vegetables to his house and canned them under supervision, saving money for themselves and canned goods for the soldiers.

THOUSANDS TO LEARN TRADE.

American Soldiers Are to Come Back Far Better Fitted For Life.

London, Nov. 2.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Thousands of American soldiers who never have had any trade are going to have a chance to learn one under the tutelage of the Young Men's Christian association instructors before they return to America.

It is hoped by this plan that the soldiers, to matter what their vocation before the war, will go back home better equipped for it or for something better than before they enlisted.

Fifty instructors from the United States already are busy with classes of American soldiers in the United Kingdom and at least fifty more are needed before January 1, 1919. It is estimated that for each of the one hundred Y. M. C. A. secretaries enlisted in this work five volunteer instructors can be obtained from the ranks of the soldiers.

This would give a "faculty" in the British Isles of six hundred men capable of teaching studies and of giving actual class work; between 10,000 and 20,000 in correspondence studies and of giving lectures every week to from 25,000 to 50,000 troops.

The work in France is much greater, of course, and there the Y. M. C. A. is receiving the co-operation of the military forces in fitting the American soldier for a useful occupation when he has finished the job under Generals Foch and Pershing.

This great Y. M. C. A. plan is based upon the work the New Zealand Y. M. C. A. has done in England which has challenged American admiration.

American workers have visited the New Zealand camp for convalescent troops in the southeast of England where the New Zealanders are cultivating intensively a 40-acre farm and where the New Zealand troops are learning to be better farmers than ever.

Technical instruction for American soldiers is to include the study of automobile gas engines and aircraft engines; mathematics; from arithmetic to trigonometry; mechanical drawing, agricultural drawing and topographical draughting; plan reading and estimating; principles of mechanics; principles of electricity; arts and crafts; general principles of agriculture, which will include model farms and demonstration in truck gardening and the raising of poultry.

A VESSEL A DAY.

Is the Pace That Has Been Set in Pacific Coast.

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—From the shipyards of the Pacific coast a vessel a day, newly completed to meet the demands of war, sets forth as a cargo carrier in the American emergency fleet.

Shipbuilding activities extend from San Pedro in California to the northernmost limits of the state of Washington. Hulls of steel and wood, and some of concrete, many of them turned out in periods which have broken world's speed records, are received at these plants, and somewhere along this stretch of shore line, virtually every twenty-four hours, a ship takes the water and the keel of another is laid before the wavelets from the launching have disappeared.

Because the Pacific yards from the inauguration of the national shipbuilding project have led the country in production, their managers were first to predict that the industry would be the greatest since history has been recorded. They are in position now to speak with authority of the fulfillment of their prophecies. L. E. Meachem, secretary of the Meachem and Babcock Shipbuilding company of Seattle said:

"There were employed in the construction of King Solomon's temple, according to the Bible, 188,300 men. That was the greatest construction undertaking up to modern times. War shipbuilding is the world's greatest industry, because there are more men concentrated on a single purpose than ever before."

Probably no one could state exactly the number of men employed in the various departments of shipbuilding on the Pacific coast. It is a constantly changing, and a constantly increasing quantity. For instance, on July 1, 1916, 4,200 men were at work in the Oregon yards. Just one year later there were 41,500 engaged in the task.

A month ago there were 6,000 men at work in the yards of the Todd Drydock and Shipbuilding company at Tacoma. It is expected that within two more months there will be approximately 10,500 on the pay roll there. The Skidmore and Eddy yards at Seattle, Wash., employed 13,500 men a month ago. The rate at which men are being taken on here is in keeping with the increase elsewhere. It is the same story from southern California to the British Columbia frontier. Nowhere are the figures of to-day the figures of to-morrow.

It is not only to the strong that is accorded the privilege of taking a hand in the building of the "bridge of ships to France." More than 100 Aberdeen, Wash., business and professional men have come into the plant of the Gray's Harbor Motorship corporation. By doing cleaning up and other odd jobs, they have released many ship mechanics and artisans for actual ship work. Many of them come to the yard after leaving their offices for the day, and turn over all their wages to the Red Cross, convert them into Liberty bonds or buy war savings stamps.

Indirectly, their patriotism has been an immense asset to the Emergency Fleet corporation. Through their assumption of these odd jobs they have enabled the expert ship workers to establish speed records.

Almost every peace time vacation also may be found among the "strong men" of the shipyards.

"Reverend Jim Osborne, boss riveter," is the way in which his co-workers introduce a former minister of the gospel to visitors at the Todd yards at Tacoma, Wash. Osborne is well known in Missoula valley, and famed for this work in the interests of the Young Men's Christian association.

Another man, so big they call him a horny handed son of soil is an attorney who gave up a lucrative practice in eastern Washington county to help the game along. Another is a doctor from a small Utah town. These are but a few examples of the hundreds of brainy, educated men who have turned to and are fighting on the line behind the fighting front.

One Wife's Experience.

"My husband is so particular!" said the young matron at the club luncheon. "He insists on my getting the very best butter, even at these prices, and yet he is at me about keeping the bills down."

"Why don't you give him Benefit Brand 'Sweet Nut'?" That's the most delicious taste luxury. It is made out of the crisp, white meat of coconuts and pasteurized milk. And it's only 32c a pound—there's some saving for you!

"Do you mean to say he would not know it was
